

Machine Seven: Is a charitable initiative of TMPF dedicated to leverage the philanthropic capacities of American Supercars for community and social benefit. We do this by repurposing and designing donated supercars that embark on sponsored tours across the United States for causes that most impact the immediate needs of the community.

THE FACTS:

92% of US households own and operate cars, totaling roughly 250,844,644 registered vehicles.

In the United States, roughly 10 million new vehicles get sold every year.

Debt, homelessness, childhood hunger, poverty, food prices, and school dropout rates in the U.S. have skyrocketed.

Given its capacity, prominence and availability, the automobile is an underutilized and untapped tool for social remedy.

THE SOLUTION:

Machine Seven is a special project of TMPF, an idea house for the creative methods to serve children and families. The Machine Seven initiative is both a continuous charitable supercar tour as well as a tool of inspiration and awareness. Our programmatic goal has two intentions: To support communities & families and the efficient organizations that locally engage their needs to our greatest capacity, and to be the catalysts that shifts the functional expectations of our cars towards service and social good. We do this by example, via our charitable transcontinental supercar tours and by offering online outlets & opportunities that allow individuals to be "Driven for Good" by donating the miles on trips, commutes, vacations, and excursions to causes that are worthy of inspiration and support.

On our charitable tours, Machine Seven champions the seven ethics that inform our name (Service, Charity, Inspiration, Safety, Efficiency, Excellence, and Drive) while supporting the many organizations that have a transparent and efficient operation in the areas/causes that matter to us (elementary education, food banks, shelter support, support for health care clinics, military & veteran support, disability empowerment, emergency assistance, wish granting for children, poverty assistance, and youth empowerment).

100% OF PUBLIC DONATIONS GO TO MACHINE SEVEN'S MISSION CRITICAL SERVICE.

Private donors fund our operating costs so you don't have to. Even the credit card fees from your donation today are sponsored, so a true 100% goes to people in need.
